Implicit bias refers to the automatic associations and unconscious attitudes that each of us have about other people, especially people who are different from us. Unexamined bias can thwart an organization’s equity efforts, in spite of non-discrimination policies and outwardly stated equity goals and values.

Instructor Maria Lisa Johnson will help participants

- Recognize their own implicit bias.
- Identify the impacts of implicit bias in the equity and inclusion efforts.
- Learn strategies to interrupt or reduce individual bias.
- Examine organizational efforts to mitigate bias.

Successful completion of introductory 8-Hour training: Leading for Social Justice and Equity (or similar training) is required prior to participating in this 4-hour workshop.
